Searching to find the best Warcraft Gold prices?

You've may have already found that most Warcraft Gold farming companies are offering 1000G for $50-80 dollars. Sounds good right? Wrong, that is not the best price for Warcraft Gold. What if I told you that the best price for WoW Gold is about $39 for 150,000 gold +.... Believe me its true, and in a moment and I'll let you in on where to find this deal. But first, I want to tell you how I stumbled upon this information.

Buying Gold Cheap

As you probably have already realized, I run www.Warcraft-Twinks.Com. Which means I have an obvious interest in heavily gearing and equipping lower level characters with the best items available. I also do this for friends and sell a few accounts as well. So, in order to do this over and over, I require tons of Warcraft gold. More than what can be supported by one main character doing the normal "mote" grind or like. I need gold quick, fast, and affordable.

Recently in desperation, I like many of you turned to a cheap Warcraft gold farmer to feed my addiction. I did some serious searching, found the best one, and placed an order for 2000 gold. Unfortunately, thats when my headache began. After about 30 minutes of going back and forth on the phone with some automated call system, I received a confirmation number. I logged into an account I had opened just for the purpose of buying gold (due to the constant banning of accounts for gold buying/selling) . Then waited, and waited. After about 1hr I received an in game email from some toon named "Xhuda" with 275 gold and a message stating that "they were trying to raise the amount of gold I had purchased, but it would take some time" and I would have no choice but to "wait" (no refunds). Needless to say, I was pissed. It had been over an hour and a half, and all I had was 275 gold out of a 2000 gold purchase.

Rethinking "What Is Cheap World of Warcraft Gold"

While all this was going on, I was explaining the situation to RL friend who suggested that in the mean time I use one of the new Warcraft gold guides I had received for promotional purposes thru the website. I had nothing to do but wait for god knows how long, so I though "what the hell" and gave it a shot. I wasn't in the mood to read a bunch of stuff, so I quickly scanned for the meat-n-potatos. Surprisingly, I found what I needed quickly and was off to test the waters. The step-by-step instructions were easy to follow and the first couple I tried (out of hundreds) produced results quickly. I was amazed and couldn't wait to jump on a bird to Org. to find out my earnings.

Once in Org., I checked my mail and still no money from the "cheap warcraft gold" farmer. So I headed over to the AH and followed some more of the gold tips in Derek's guide. Thats when the fun began. The next thing I knew, I looked in my bag and between some quick farming and AH tricks, I had around 1200G (not including the 275g from the cheap gold farmer). It had been just under 2hrs.

Then it hit me like a ton of bricks. With the "cheap WoW gold" farmer, I was averaging 137.5 Gold per hour. Using Derek's guide I was averaging 600G per hour. Derek's guide cost $39, the "cheap warcraft gold" cost me $179. Furthermore, I was able to see results instantly. Unlike waiting for someone else to drum up the money or the new Warcraft money mail system (1hr wait for delivery).

I felt like an idiot, and I was. I had trusted my account, my personal information, and my money to some child labor in a communist country. For what, Warcraft Gold "cheap" or "quick", which in reality is neither...How foolish.
Finding "Cheap Warcraft Gold"

The cheapest Warcraft Gold you can get, is the gold you make yourself. But to do it efficiently you have got to use the same tricks the gold farmers use. And to learn these tricks you need a Warcraft gold guide. The cost of a good Warcraft gold guide ranges between $25 and $40 dollar. For this amount you are learning how to make between 250G and 700G per hour, not just once but for a lifetime. A typical player who averages 10 hrs a week using a gold guide, will make roughly 3000-5000 gold a week. That is truly amazing. Think about it, 3000G per week x 52 weeks=156,000G, all for $39. "Cheap Warcraft Gold" farmers can't touch this price even with forced labor.

Below I have listed the best gold guides out there. Although, I personally recommend Derek's guide, we use all the guides listed. And any guide listed is 100 times better than a gold farmer.
